FOUR SONNETS.

BY JEAN INGRLOW.

I. A SNOW MOUNTAIN. Can I make white enough my thought for thee, Or wash my words in light? Thou hast no

To sit aloft in the silence silently

And twin these matchless heights undescerate. Reverend as Lear, when, form of sheller, be fitted, with his old white head, surprised at Alone as Galileo, when set free, Before the stars he mused disconsolate."

Ar, and remote, as the dead lords of sour,

Great masters who have made us what we are For thou and they have taught us how to long And feel a sacred want or the fair and fat: Reign, and keep life in this our neep desire— Our only greatn as is that we aspire.

II. SI ENP.

(A WOMAN SPHAKS.) O sleep, we are beholden to thee, sleep, Thou bearest angels to us in the n ght baints out of heaven with palms. Seen by thy Sorrow is some old tale that goeth not deep; Love is a pouting child. O ce I did swe-p Through space with thee, and to, a dazzling Stars! They came on, I felt their drawing And some had dark companions. Once (1

When I remember that) we sailed the tide,
And found fair isles, where no isles used to bide, And met there my lost love, who said to me, That was a long mistake: he had not used, Sleep, in the world to come now strange twill be

Never to want, never to wish for thee!

III. PROMISING. (A MAN SPRAKS.)

Once, a new world, the sunswart marinere Columbus, promised, and was sore withstood Ungraced, unhelped, unheard for many a year but let at last to make his promise good. Promised and promising I ga, most dear, To better my dull heart with love's sweet

My life with its most reverent hope and fear. And my religion, with fair gratitude. O we must part; the stars for me contend, And all the winds that blow on all the seas Through wonderful waste places I must wend And with a promise my sad soul appease. Promise then, promise much of far-off bliss; But - ab, for present oy, give me one kiss.

IV. Who veileth love should first have vanquished

She folded up the dream in her deep heart, Her fair full lips were silent on that smart, Thick fringed eyes did on the grasses wait What good? one elequent blush, but one, and straight

The meaning of a life was known; for art is often folled in playing nature's part, and time holds nothing long inviolate. Earth's buried see'd springs up -slowly, or fast The ring came home, that one in ages past Flung to the keeping of unfathomed seas; And golden apples on the mystic trees Were sought and found, and borne away at last, Though watched of the divine Hesperides.

lowing order:-That from and after the 31st day of March inst., the commission of all special agents of the Post Office Department other than the cunder pay and assigned to duty in pre-scribed districts in the several States and Territories, be and the same are hereby revoked.

Notice is also given that the commissions of all special agents retained in the service of said department will expire on the 31st of December, and must then be renewed.

-The President informed the Senate yester day that he had approved and signed the bill for the further security of equal rights in the District of Columbia. It is, therefore, a law, and is as follows:-

Be it enaced, etc., That the word "white," whenever it occurs in the laws relating to the District of Columbia, or in the charter or orol-nances of the cities of Washington and Georgetown, and operates as a limitation on the right of any elector of such district, or of either of the cities, to hold any office, or to be selected and serve as a juror, be and the same is hereby repealed; and it shall be unlawful for any person or efficer to enforce or attempt to enforce such limitation after the passage of this act, This law removes altogether the distinction heretofore existing between whites and blacks as to civil rights.

—Postmaster-General Creswell has addressed the following circular to the several members of the Cabinet, with the request that the names and signatures of the Calef Clerks of Bureaus be furnished the City Post Office, for the guidance of the Postmaster, in carrying out the order of the Post Office Dipartment:—
"Wi ha view to facilitale the frans plesion by all the Executive Departments to frank official mail matter emanating from the Bureaus to which they are avached.

"J. A. J. Canswell. Po timaster General."

The practice heretofore has been to stamp a fac simile of the officer's signature upon the envelope; but under the late law, the signature must be autographic, and the authority to sign by the above order is given to chief clerks of bureaus, as it would require most of the time of the heads of bureaus to frank official letters, over, fitteen hundred daily going out from the Becond Auditor's office alone.

Foreign Affairs. YOROBANA Barch 19 .- Foreign Ministers have be neunced the termination of the civil war in Japan, and withdrawn their proclamation of neutrality.

ALEXANDRIA, March 19.—The waters of the M-diterranced bave been successfully admitted pto Bitter Lake through the Suez Caval. VIERNA, March 19.-A royal decree has just been published, establishing trial by jury for offenses against the Press law.

Maprin, March 19.—The trouble in Andalusia still continues. At X-res de la Frontera the opposition to the military conscription colminated in a battle between the insurgents and troops. The engagement was of short duration, but very tierce. The insurgents were defeated sud routed, six hundred of them being taken prisoners. M ramon, at the head of nine hundred Carlis's, had appeared at Patenia, in the mountains, near Alivenia. Troops have been despatched to that neighborhood.

Havana, March 19.—On Thur day the barque I orhee, with coal from Troop, went ashore at Colmar. The insurgents burnt five of the largest plantations in the jurisdiction of Sagua It hica one near Cientuegos, and snother near Macagus. It is postively asserted that the insurgent generals are carrying out their dederived plan of burning everywhere. A detachment of insurgents bad left Alvadrez, well mounted, to burn the plantations in the vicinity of Jabacoa. The planters are terrified. Authentic information from the insurgents acoust that many plantations have been burned within a week. within a week.

An engagement took place between the troops and insurgents yesterday, near Alzatez. The insurgents were routed, and are dividing; one torce fled towards Macagua, and the other towards Jecuire Grande. An engagement nad eports one hundred and thirty-six insurgents killed and only one Spanish solder wounded. The insurgents are active near Bolondron.

Troops from Matanzas have gone there. When the battle of Sierra Cabita was tought, Quesada was sick with the small-pox. Ortega commarded the insurgents, carrying off the slaves from plantations and making them soldiers, The number of insurgents in Sagua and Reme-gios districts are estimated at from seven to nine thousand. Be-querra plantations, near Trinidad, have been burned. Five persons were purned in Sagua district, which produced nine thou and hogsheads of sugar yearly. The m-surgents have destroyed the railroad and telegraph between Alvarez and Macagua.

HAVANA, March 19.—Order being restored in the jurisdiction of Santa Espiritu, General Puello is moving towards Puerto Principe. The situation at Cienfuegos is unchanged. The disturbed condition of the surrounding country prevents sugar from reaching Cientuegos.

At Trinidad, Remedios, and other markets it is generally estimated that the sugar crop this year will fall short by three-eighths of last year. Sugars at our ports are firmer. There are rumors of engagements near to Holguin, but nothing definite is known.

San Francisco, March 19.—Mazatlan advices to March 8 have been received by steamer. The United States steamer Resaca was in port. Trade was languishing, and the future prospects are discouraging. The steamer brings $207,000 in treasure from Mexico.

The customs authorities of Mazatlan seized an American vessel, and attempted to extort export duties on a cargo of dye-wood. The vessel was only relieved on the bond of the American Consul, that such duties should be paid, if according to law.

The Cuban Envoys

The arrival of the special envoy, Senor Morales Semus, of the Provisional Republic of Cuba, in New York, which I have frequently predicted in these despatches, attracts more than ordinary attention here. He bears with him formal credentials as Envoy Extraordinary from President Cespedes, and is expected to arrive here on Tues day of next week. It is to be regretted that he did not make his appearance sconer, as it would have been both expedient and advisable to have settled his demands while Con-gress is still in session. To obviate this difficulty, however, it is proposed to pass a law, before Congress adjourns, authorizing President Grant to recognize the new republic during the coming recess, if in his opinion it is proper to do so. It is evident that the recent position assumed by our Government regarding Cuban affairs has not only resulted in encouraging the insurgents, and finally in the mission of Senor Semus as Envoy, but has also ment of the island, as Captain-General Datce has recently exhibited extraordinary willingness to accede to the requests of Admiral Hoff, in command of our fleet in the Mexican Gulf. On the whole, the prospects of the Cuban patriors are much brighter now than they have been, which fact is owing to the encouragement, both material and moral, which they have received from the citizens and Government of this country. - Washington Correspondence of

The City Contest.

Testimony in the above case was again taken before Examiners Messick and Batturs yesterday afternoon:-
